the Mayor delivered himself to-day:

"I think the nomination of Harrison was the best thing the Republicans could do to improve the chances of Grover Cleveland. It indicates that we are to have another educational campaign and that the questions which were before the people four years ago will be again discussed, and the Democratic party will have the benefit of the intelligent consideration which these questions have had since then."

In reply to a question Mayor Boody said that in his opinion Mr. Cleveland would carry the State of New York.
